There is probably no finer property in San Miguel. Designed by a Los Angeles architect and constructed by one of San Miguel's finest builders with an exact attention to detail, this house combines a colonial sense of space with a Moorish interior. The grounds comprise 4.5 acres for spacious gardens and privacy. The overall effect is both elegant and sometimes whimsical. Amenities include a master wing with media room, his and her closets and office. Outside is a pool, koi pond and gardens.
